Revengeis "Save the Rain Forest" and "Peace" T-Shirts for women : Make Your Day

I was picking up FancyGreen's producer to go for a walk, and when I arrived she surprised me with two darling little tees by Revengeis for me to wear test!

I immediately slipped into the "Save the Rain Forest" tee, a creamy smooth scoop-neck top with capped sleeves. The tee is a light sage green color with a block-print of a rain cloud watering a tree. I liked the long cut; it looked perfect with my low-rise jeans and the tee peeked out from under my cotton blazer ever so slightly. The whimsical print made the message I was wearing smart and chic!

The next day I decided to make "Peace" in a crew-neck style tee. This soft, dark heather grey tee hugged my body and came down over my hips. The meaning was clear here, a blooming flower and the words, "The best revenge is peace" exploding out of pistol. Go ahead, make my day!

I have been so happy wearing these tees. They are supremely soft, which was a surprise since they're made out of a blend of organic cotton and a fiber made out of recycled plastic bottles. I never thought recycling would feel this amazing! The shirts are thin, but not sheer, and drape really well thanks to the soft, almost silky material.

Revengeis makes hip t-shirts for women, men, and kids that bear important social messages. They also support social and environmental change, donating a portion of their profits to charitable organizations (including support for Haiti.) I wear my fashionable eco tees with pride! (Click on the photo below for full-size image.)

Eco Creds: Contains organic cotton and fiber made out of recycled plastic bottles.

Bottom Line: In fashion a message is more effective if it looks great, too. Revengeis makes powerful statements with delightful t-shirts that are a treat to wear.--K.K. (May '10)
